The shuttle operates 24 hours a day. You can purchase your tickets once you arrive in Orlando or you can purchase them in advance by visiting this link.

Uber and Lyft have only recently been allowed to pick up and drop off from the airport so at this time availability is inconsistent.

If you want to take pictures or film any footage outside, or away from the conference floor, you are more than welcome to. As always, please ask for permission prior to taking anyone's photograph.

Q: Do I really have to wear a name tag?

A: Yes, name tags are a must-have fashion accessory! We are asking all attendees to wear name tags at all times while on the conference floor. Name tags will be used so that you can be admitted into the conference area. Wearing a name tag helps us ensure the safety and security of everyone. If you lose your name tag, stop by the registration table and get a new one.

Q: I'm eager to learn and grow through this conference. But, what happens if I'm triggered?

A: We will have a Grounding Room, which is a room where you can go if you need some grounding or you need some time alone to take a breather. Please keep your noise level low around the area, especially when you enter and exit the room. If you feel you might need further assistance, please contact a Healing Together Volunteer who will help you call your emergency contact. Please remember to use your support systems as you are responsible for your emotional and physical safety.

Q: Will you have art on display?

A: We had an overwhelmingly positive response to the various art pieces on display! This year, we will have an expanded art area. We hope you will take time to browse the amazing art that survivors have made and that you will stop by the creative corner to make some art of your own! Please read the art submission guidelines if you are interested in submitting your own art!

Q: I noticed the agenda includes "optional lunch time chat and chews". Can you give me more information about these groups?

A: Throughout the conference, there will be peer groups where attendees can participate in open-ended, general discussions. Groups listed on the agenda will be facilitated by mental health professionals.
